

DEATH

A Romantic Comedy

"A powerhouse of a storyteller... weaves together seemingly unrelated tales of loss, love, and drinking into one amazing narrative."

★★★★ Canadian Broadcasting Corporation

"A caustically funny, rhyming one-man show, involving petty thieves, a pacemaker and a man handcuffed to a coffin."

Edmonton Journal, Alberta

"Rob Gee takes you on the fastest roller coaster ride of storytelling in a six degrees of separation way. He brings characters and plot together with wit and humour, never missing a beat."

★★★★★ Do250, Victoria

"A great show." Jenny Revue, Winnipeg

"Amazing... a tour de force... this crazy train ride was wonderful."

★★★★ Two Hungry Blokes, Victoria

"A gifted and funny storyteller." ★★★★★ Gig City, Alberta

"A fringe favourite... the frenetically energetic Gee impresses, delivering a show chock-full of absurdist Brit irony, surrealism and the life-affirming big-heartedness that typifies his work... gleeful subversiveness and joie de vivre... beneath it all is a keenly observant interest in the human condition."

★★★★½ Victoria Times

"One of those talented individuals who can keep up a hilarious patter for an hour non-stop... he drags his audience with him, laughing all the way." Monday Magazine, Victoria

"An unexpected treat... deviously structured... employing misdirection on a scale that would make a magician blush... imbues the humour and delight of the living into each macabre detail, and makes us glad to be alive."

Showbill, Victoria
