Media Reviews

"Brimming with anarchistic joy... hilariously grotesque... an intelligently punkish sensibility... yet behind everything is a big heart. It's typical Gee – combining gleeful subversiveness with poignant observations about the human condition."

Victoria Times ★★★★★

"The kind of person whose presence is just enjoyable... for those who often cringe at spoken word poetry, myself included, fret not. Gee's poems are very much stories... like Gee himself, they have zero pretension. They draw on his experiences of love, life and work as a psychiatric nurse. You'll laugh, you'll relate, you'll have fun."

Edmonton Journal, Alberta ★★★★★

"An hour incredibly well spent... insightful, hilarious, and pregnant with the vitality and wisdom of long and varied experiences."

Showbill, Canada

"Always personable... his use of rhyme and meter are incredible."

Jenny Revue, Winnipeg

"Perennial audience favourite... it's a rollicking good time, with amusing patter that gives each work context. Best of all, each offering gives food for thought."

UMFM, Manitoba

"A fast-moving meal of filling, varied verses... a fun concept with a lot of replay value!"

Winnipeg Free Press ★★★★★½

"Utterly engrossing... I really don't see how you could ever go wrong with this one."
